MORROW SODALI BOLSTERS CORPORATE GOVERNANCE EXPERTISE WITH THE APPOINTMENT OF JANA JEVCAKOVA

SYDNEY – 9 August, 2018: Morrow Sodali has further strengthened its position as Australia’s leading Shareholder Engagement and Corporate Governance Advisory firm following the appointment of prominent Sydney-based governance specialist, Jana Jevcakova.

Ms Jevcakova is one of Asia-Pacific’s leading experts in corporate governance and proxy research, having spent the last seven years advising domestic and global institutional investors whilst engaging with company boards around ESG matters.

Morrow Sodali CEO Australia, Maria Leftakis, said she is thrilled with the new appointment, saying it demonstrates Morrow Sodali’s strong commitment to developing a specialist, full-service, corporate governance advisory capability.

“Corporate Governance has become a core focus for both directors and management alike, and Jana’s recent work leading the research efforts at CGI Glass Lewis further enhances our unparalleled depth of knowledge and specialist expertise in this area,” Mrs Leftakis said.

“Together with our regional head of Corporate Governance, Michael Chandler, Jana’s knowledge of executive remuneration frameworks and environmental and social issues will enable us to provide deep, strategic governance advice to our growing portfolio of ASX listed company clients to help them manage engagement and voting risks for both routine and M&A situations,” she said.

Ms Jevcakova said she was looking forward to applying her knowledge and expertise to assist companies with their corporate governance disclosures.

“I’m very excited to be joining Morrow Sodali at a time when investors are taking a more hands-on approach towards Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) related issues and the market is buzzing with the word culture. I look forward to supporting Morrow Sodali’s clients and further building on our reputation as trusted advisors,” Ms Jevcakova said.
